Subject: RE: Updated slide deck for a PM ISA briefing next week?

No I think use as much of the old slide deck as before. It's an hour briefing. I told him we'd be repeating content just as we briefed Richard back in July.

The only thing that jumped out at me as out of whack were the timeline slides, since they had an august release.

The prior briefing was quite extensive - for David are we trying to keep it to less than 15 as with other briefs?
I'll assume so but let me know if otherwise.
I'm at a workshop in Chapel hill that ends mid-afternoon, I should have a draft briefing by late today or early tomorrow.
Does that work?

Hi John,

Sorry to slam you with more work. Any eta on a slide deck for a David briefing next week?
